Read these paragraphs about Julia Walker's life.

A:

She didn't have much time for school so she studied at home in the evenings. She took her exams late, when she was twenty. She passed all of them but she didn't go to university because she had another idea!

B:

Julia Walker was born in 1933 in Leeds. Her mother died when Julia was eleven years old. She had three younger brothers and she looked after them: cooking, cleaning, washing their clothes... Her father was at work all day in the office.

C:

She didn't give up. She knew it was the right kind of work for her. So she started her own small catering company called "A Bit on the Side". At first she worked alone and then, when she found more customers, the business grew and she employed somebody to help her. It continued to grow as a result of her hard work. Today, she employs forty people!

D:

She got a job in a catering company in London. It was very hard work and she didn't get much money. One day she was so tired that she didn't remember to take the wine to a wedding. When the boss found out she lost her job.

From Now then!
