Americanah, by Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie ☆☆☆☆

A book I really enjoyed reading last summer is Americanah, written by Chmamanda Ngozi Adichie. It tells the story of a girl and a boy who were a couple in their school years in Nigeria, but whose lives take different paths when they search for a better life in America and England, respectively. It is novel about life and hope, love and regret, racism and justice, culture and identity, leaving home and going back. From my point of view, it is a very interesting reading, brilliantly written, and it does not disappoint at all. I think it's a book for someone who likes exploring different cultures and deep feelings, and I would definitely recommend it. I hope you like it, let me know what you think if you read it! 😊

My favorite book is The Name of The Rose. This book is very exciting and is one of the best books I have read. The author's name is Umberto Eco, who was one of the best writers of all times. The book is a historical novel of mystery and the plot is about the year 1327 when the Benedictines in a wealthy Italian abbey are suspected of heresy, and Brother William of Baskerville arrives to investigate. His mission is suddenly complicated by seven strange deaths that alter the life of the abbey. The whole story was absolutely outstanding and extremely sophisticated, but it has many Latin sentences which complicate its understanding. Anyway, it is an excellent book and a perfect mystery with a surprising ending. I definitely recommend it! (Fernando)

Mario's recommended book:

My favourite book is "Manual del Automóvil Arias-Paz", well-known as "The Automobile's Bible". This is a technical book about the Automobile. The first edition was published in 1940 and the last, the fifty-sixth edition, in 2006. Its author was Manuel Arias-Paz, a Spanish engineer. He wrote books about motorcycles, tractors, two stroke engines and some more about driving too. He wrote about electric cars, and he died in 1965. That's amazing!! I think it is a good book for somebody who likes cars because everything you need to know about them is in Arias-Paz books.

THE LORD OF THE RINGS    by    J.R.R. Tolkien

It is an adventure story and a fantasy novel. It's been my favorite book since I read it when I was 20 years old.

In this book there are hobbits, wizards, elves and other fiction characters.

The plot is well constructed and the story start in the Middle-earth when the main character, Frodo, receives the Ring from his uncle Bilbo.

Frodo is a young hobbit that must leave his home and make a journey to destroy the Ring.

By the other hand, Sauron, the Dark Lord, needs the Ring in order to have the World's power, and look for Frodo to kill him.

But there is a Fellowship of the Ring that must prevent him from doing it.

This is a book that I could not put down, and I read it right through in a few days, because I needed to know what will be happen in the next chapter. I recommend it for adventure's lovers.
